

DAVID (Portugal)

On the first day of our Gen 3 school, we made a communion of goods with my unit.
For many of us it was the first time.

On a table, in our room, we decided to share not only what seemed superfluous, but all our food and toys and the money we had.

We felt that it made no sense to say that we wanted to live in mutual love as Jesus asked us, and then everyone keeps everything for himself.

We put everything inside a cabinet.

A Gen 3 managed the communion of goods and from time to time we saw together all the needs (for example, getting some ice cream ...)

We did not miss a thing and in the end we decided to give all the savings to the Gen 3 in a poorer zone.

But the best part is that we truly felt free and happy, and we were really able to experience the unity among us.

PETRA (Romania)

During a moment of communion among us Gen 3, we found that several of us are facing the same problems day after day. In our families there is no peace and this affects our whole life. So we came up with an idea: let's begin to pray every day for our families, not alone, but together! We set an appointment for every morning before school to start the day together with God. Between our two schools, the best in town - who are rivals to each other - there is a small road. We meet right there, as a symbol of our desire to unite our two schools.

My classes begin an hour earlier, so I get to the appointment after the first hour. Usually I meet some classmates along the road who are arriving for the second hour and ask me: "What are you doing? We're coming and you're going? "

It's a funny situation, but I know that for this purpose it is worth the risk and I run to get there in time, because I do it for God.

Since then our families have overcome many things. I know that God wants peace in our families and that is why he hears our prayers. We are really certain that he gives us everything we ask for in unity.
